In this study, different workers will work on a task and you will be paid 1 cent for every 100 points that each worker score on that task. To motivate the effort from worker, you can reward a worker with extra 20 cents as a bonus. We will match you with approximately 40 workers. So if you choose to motivate the workers with extra 20 cents, you will spend $8 for all the 40 workers. These $8 will be paid by us. So all you have to decide is to whether you want to incentivise workers by paying them 20 cents each. If you choose not to reward the workers you won't be matched with any worker and there won't be additional variable amount for you however you will get to keep the $8 which will be paid in 2 weeks.

Workers on average score more than 2,000 points in the task that we give them, so if you decide to reward them you are very likely to earn more than $8.

Do you want to reward each matched worker by paying him/her extra 20 cents?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ No

Before we record a video of you demonstrating a task, please familiarize yourself with the script that you will be reading for the video. Here is the script in italics.

Hi, I am another participant in this study who is matched to you. In this study, you will work on a simple button-pressing task, and I will earn some money depending on how well you do on the task.

On the next page, you will play the task. The object of the task is to alternately press the `a' and `b' buttons on your keyboard as quickly as possible for ten minutes. Every time you successfully press the `a' and then the `b' button, you will receive a point. Note that points will only be rewarded when you alternate button pushes: just pressing the `a' or `b' button without alternating between the two will not result in points.

Buttons must be pressed by hand only (key-bindings or automated button-pushing programs/scripts cannot be used) or task will not be approved.

Feel free to score as many points as you can.

I will earn 1 cent for every 100 points that you score.

In appreciation to you for performing this task, I have decided to pay you extra 20 cents as bonus. Your score will not affect your payment in any way.

Your score will not affect your payment in any way.

Please ask the lab in-charge to record the video.
